Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Results of Operations

Renaissance Global Bond Fund's (the Fund) portfolio sub-advisor is Brandywine Global Investment Management, LLC (the sub-advisor). The commentary that follows provides a summary of the results of operations for the six-month period ended February 29, 2020. All dollar figures are expressed in thousands, unless otherwise indicated.

The Fund's net asset value decreased by 3% during the period, from $651,346 as at August 31, 2019 to $630,115 as at February 29, 2020. Net redemptions of $29,424 were partially offset by positive investment performance, resulting in an overall decrease in net asset value.

Class A units of the Fund posted a return of 0.9% for the period. The Fund's benchmark, the FTSE World Government Bond Index (the benchmark), returned 2.0% for the same period. The Fund's return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, unlike the benchmark's return. See Past Performance for the returns of other classes of units offered by the Fund.

During the final quarter of 2019, optimism regarding global economic growth and trade flows benefited currency markets. Developed market bond yields rose as positive economic data emerged, crude oil prices held steady and U.S.-China trade tensions appeared to be de-escalating.

Sentiment changed direction a few weeks into 2020 with the spread of COVID-19, sparking concerns over the potential impact on global economic growth. Equities ended the month with the largest weekly loss since 2008, despite having reached new highs only a week earlier. The impact on oil prices was significant amid a prolonged commodity rout and growing expectations for a sharp slowdown in demand.

Higher-quality developed market bonds and other "safe haven" assets rebounded amid the uncertainty, sending gold prices to multi-year highs. The environment benefited the U.S. dollar, causing most currencies to weaken against it. Many emerging markets bond markets and currencies, given their close links to Chinese economic growth and export demand, declined through February in the wake of increased economic risks. Several central banks stepped in with pre-emptive actions against potential COVID-19 fallout.

The Fund's underweight allocation to developed market duration (a measure of interest-rate sensitivity) detracted from performance during the first two months of 2020. This underperformance was a result of uncertainty surrounding the spread of COVID-19.

Other detractors from performance included holdings in the Chilean peso and a significant underweight allocation to the U.S. dollar. The Chilean peso weakened amid ongoing civil protests and the expected pressure government concessions could have on the country's fiscal position. The Fund's underweight exposure to the U.S. dollar detracted from performance in the first two months of 2020 as COVID-19 potentially affected the recovery in global economic growth. Currencies linked to crude oil exports, Chinese economic activity or global trade sharply declined in this environment and the U.S. dollar rose.

An underweight exposure to longer-term U.S. treasuries detracted from performance in the fourth quarter of 2019 as developed market bond yields rose. These relative losses compounded during the first two months of 2020 as COVID-19 concerns intensified.

Bond market positioning was a contributor to the Fund's performance. During the fourth quarter of 2019, firmer crude oil prices and de-escalating U.S.-China trade tensions significantly benefited trade- and commodity-dependent currencies. Like Latin America, most Southeast Asian economies and financial markets benefited from the prospects of a U.S.-China trade compromise.

Individual contributors to performance included holdings in local-currency Mexican bonds. These bonds benefited as prospects increased for the passing of the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement, and an interest-rate decrease from Mexico's central bank. A moderate overweight allocation to the British pound was another contributor to performance as the currency rebounded significantly after the U.K. general election in December.

The sub-advisor added exposure to government-related Mexican bonds through hard-currency Petroleos Mexicanos bonds of longer maturity, as signs continued to support the global macroeconomic backdrop and the Mexican economy appeared to be on solid ground. The sub-advisor believed that these commodity-sensitive bonds, offering a high yield, would fare well if the global economy improved.

Exposure to the U.S. dollar was increased moderately, but it remains an underweight allocation. The slight increase in exposure was related to the modest reduction in U.S. treasury duration over the past four months.

The Fund's Swedish krona exposure was eliminated. The original investment was supported by the anticipated rebound in the global economy, but this has since been delayed as a result of COVID-19 concerns. The sale was further supported by Sweden's central bank's lack of follow-through in policy normalization after declaring its intention to move away from a negative policy rate this past December.

The Fund's allocation to the euro was eliminated at the beginning of the period. Economic activity in the eurozone slowed and was expected to remain at low levels, especially in Germany given its exposure to manufacturing and China. The sub-advisor believed that this would likely result in accommodative policy on the part of the European Central Bank. While the euro appears attractively valued, there are economic and political concerns, in the sub-advisor's view, with no catalyst signalling appreciation in sight.

In early 2020, in response to COVID-19, the sub-advisor reduced the Fund's exposure to the South Korean won based on the expectation that global and Chinese economic growth could be affected by COVID-19 over the short term. The Fund's allocations to the Malaysian ringgit and sovereign bonds were trimmed. Malaysia has an open economy, reliant on manufacturing commodities and tourism, the latter of which will likely decline as a result of COVID-19. U.S. treasury duration exposure at the long-term end of the yield curve was reduced.

Recent Developments

The composition of the Independent Review Committee (IRC) changed. Don Hunter and Merle Kriss retired effective April 26, 2020. David Forster and Deborah Leckman were appointed as members of the IRC effective April 27, 2020.

The outbreak of COVID-19 (the disease caused by a new coronavirus) in China in December 2019, and its subsequent spread and designation as a global pandemic, has caused a slowdown in global economic activity and sustained market volatility. This has impacted global markets, with the most significant valuation changes occurring since the end of the review period. This has affected, or could affect, the performance of the Fund in an adverse manner.

Related Party Transactions

CIBC and its affiliates have the following roles and responsibilities with respect to the Fund, and receive the fees described below in connection with their roles and responsibilities.

Manager, Trustee, and Portfolio Advisor of the Fund

CAMI, a wholly-owned subsidiary of CIBC, is the Fund's Manager, Trustee, and Portfolio Advisor. As Manager, CAMI receives management fees with respect to the Fund's day-to-day business and operations, calculated based on the net asset value of each respective class of units of the Fund as described in Management Fees. As Trustee, CAMI holds title to the Fund's property (cash and securities) on behalf of its unitholders. As Portfolio Advisor, CAMI provides, or arranges to provide, investment advice and portfolio management services to the Fund. CAMI also compensates dealers in connection with their marketing activities regarding the Fund. From time to time, CAMI may invest in units of the Fund.

Distributor

Dealers and other firms sell units of the Fund to investors. These dealers and other firms include CAMI's related dealers such as the CIBC Investor's Edge discount brokerage division of CIBC Investor Services Inc. (CIBC ISI), the CIBC Imperial Service division of CIBC ISI, and the CIBC Wood Gundy division of CIBC World Markets Inc. (CIBC WM). CIBC ISI and CIBC WM are wholly-owned subsidiaries of CIBC.

CAMI may pay sales commissions and trailing commissions to these dealers and firms in connection with the sale of units of the Fund. These dealers and other firms may pay a portion of these sales commissions and trailing commissions to their advisors who sell units of the Fund to investors.

Brokerage Arrangements and Soft Dollars

CAMI generally delegates trading and execution authority to the portfolio sub-advisors and does not, in its capacity as portfolio advisor, receive any goods or services directly through soft dollar arrangements.

The Portfolio Advisor and any portfolio sub-advisors make decisions, including the selection of markets and dealers and the negotiation of commissions, with respect to the purchase and sale of portfolio securities, certain derivative products and the execution of portfolio transactions. Brokerage business may be allocated by the Portfolio Advisor and any portfolio sub-advisor to CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp., each a subsidiary of CIBC. CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp. may also earn spreads on the sale of fixed income securities, other securities, and certain derivative products to the Fund. A spread is the difference between the bid and ask prices for a security in the applicable marketplace, with respect to the execution of portfolio transactions. The spread will differ based upon various factors such as the nature and liquidity of the security.

Dealers, including CIBC WM and CIBC World Markets Corp., may furnish goods and services, other than order execution, to the Portfolio Advisor and any portfolio sub-advisors when they process trades through them (referred to in the industry as "soft-dollar" arrangements). These goods and services are paid for with a portion of the brokerage commissions and assist the Portfolio Advisor and any portfolio sub-advisor with investment decision-making services for the Fund or relate directly to the execution of portfolio transactions on behalf of the Fund. As per the terms of the portfolio sub-advisory agreements, such soft dollar arrangements are in compliance with applicable laws.

In addition, the Manager may enter into commission recapture arrangements with certain dealers with respect to the Fund. Any commission recaptured will be paid to the Fund.

During the period, the Fund did not pay any brokerage commissions or other fees to CIBC WM or CIBC World Markets Corp. Spreads associated with fixed income and other securities are not ascertainable and, for that reason, cannot be included when determining these amounts.

Fund Transactions

The Fund may enter into one or more of the following transactions (the Related Party Transactions) in reliance on the standing instructions issued by the IRC:

- invest in or hold equity securities of CIBC or issuers related to the Portfolio Advisor;
- invest in or hold non-exchange-traded debt securities of CIBC or an issuer related to CIBC, with terms-to-maturity of 365 days or more, issued in a primary offering and in the secondary market;
- make an investment in the securities of an issuer for which CIBC WM, CIBC World Markets Corp., or any affiliate of CIBC (a Related Dealer) acts as an underwriter during the offering of the securities or at any time during the 60-day period following the completion of the offering of such securities (in the case of a “private placement” offering, in accordance with the exemptive relief order granted by the Canadian securities regulatory authorities and in accordance with the policies and procedures relating to such investment);
- purchase equity and debt securities from or sell them to a Related Dealer, where it is acting as principal;
- undertake currency and currency derivative transactions where a Related Dealer is the counterparty;
- purchase securities from or sell securities to another investment fund or a managed account managed by the Manager or an affiliate of the Manager; and
- engage in in-specie transfers by receiving portfolio securities from, or delivering portfolio securities to, a managed account or another investment fund managed by the Manager or an affiliate, in respect of a purchase or redemption of units of the Fund, subject to certain conditions.

At least annually, the IRC reviews the Related Party Transactions for which they have issued standing instructions. The IRC is required to advise the Canadian securities regulatory authorities, after a matter has been referred to or reported to it by the Manager, if it determines that an investment decision was not made in accordance with conditions imposed by securities legislation or the IRC in any Related Party Transactions requiring its approval.

Custodian

CIBC Mellon Trust Company is the custodian of the Fund (the Custodian). The Custodian holds all cash and securities for the Fund and ensures that those assets are kept separate from any other cash or securities that the custodian might be holding. The Custodian also provides other services to the Fund including record-keeping and processing of foreign exchange transactions. The fees and spreads for services of the Custodian directly related to the execution of portfolio transactions by the Fund are paid by CAMI and/or dealer(s) directed by CAMI, up to the amount of the credits generated under soft dollar arrangements from trading on behalf of the Fund during that month. All other fees and spreads for the services of the Custodian are paid by the Manager and charged to the Fund on a recoverable basis. CIBC owns a 50% interest in the Custodian.

Service Provider

CIBC Mellon Global Securities Services Company (CIBC GSS) provides certain services to the Fund, including securities lending, fund accounting and reporting, and portfolio valuation. Such servicing fees are paid by the Manager and charged to the Fund on a recoverable basis. CIBC indirectly owns a 50% interest in CIBC GSS.

⁴ This information is presented as at February 29, 2020 and August 31 of the period(s) shown.

⁵ Management expense ratio is based on the total expenses of the fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs), incurred by or allocated to a class of units for the period shown, expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value of that class during the period.

⁶ The decision to waive and/or absorb management fees and operating expenses is at the discretion of the Manager. The practice of waiving and/or absorbing management fees and operating expenses may continue indefinitely or may be terminated at any time without notice to unitholders.

³ Distributions were paid in cash, reinvested in additional units of the Fund, or both.

* Ratio has been annualized.

⁴ This information is presented as at February 29, 2020 and August 31 of the period(s) shown.

⁵ Management expense ratio is based on the total expenses of the fund (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs), incurred by or allocated to a class of units for the period shown, expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value of that class during the period.

⁶ The decision to waive and/or absorb management fees and operating expenses is at the discretion of the Manager. The practice of waiving and/or absorbing management fees and operating expenses may continue indefinitely or may be terminated at any time without notice to unitholders.

⁸ The portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the portfolio advisor and/or portfolio sub-advisor manages the portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to a fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by a fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund.

Management Fees

The Fund pays CAMI an annual management fee to cover the costs of managing the Fund. Management fees are based on the Fund's net asset value and are calculated daily and paid monthly. Management fees are paid to CAMI in consideration for providing, or arranging for the provision of, management, distribution, and portfolio advisory services. Advertising and promotional expenses, office overhead expenses, trailing commissions, and the fees of the portfolio sub-advisor are paid by CAMI out of the management fees received from the Fund. The Fund is required to pay applicable taxes on the management fees paid to CAMI. Refer to the simplified prospectus for the annual management fee rate for each class of units.

For Class O units, the management fee is negotiated with and paid by, or as directed by, unitholders or dealers and discretionary managers on behalf of unitholders. Such Class O management fee will not exceed the Class F unit management fee rate.

The following table shows a breakdown of the services received in consideration of the management fees, as a percentage of the management fees collected from the Fund for the period ended February 29, 2020. These amounts do not include waived fees or absorbed expenses.

Sales and trailing commissions paid to dealers	35.88%	42.50%	0.00%	0.00%
General administration, investment advice, and profit	64.12%	57.50%	100.00%	100.00%

Past Performance

The performance data provided assumes reinvestment of distributions only and does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution, or other optional charges payable by any unitholder that would have reduced returns. Past performance does not necessarily indicate how a fund will perform in the future.

The Fund's returns are after the deduction of fees and expenses, and the difference in returns between classes of units is primarily due to differences in the management expense ratio. See Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratio.

A note on forward-looking statements

The management report of fund performance may contain forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements include statements that are predictive in nature, that depend upon or refer to future events or conditions, or that include words such as “expects”, “anticipates”, “intends”, “plans”, “believes”, “estimates”, or other similar wording. In addition, any statements that may be made concerning future performance, strategies, or prospects and possible future actions taken by the fund, are also forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance. These statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties, and other factors that may cause the actual results and achievements of the fund to differ materially from those expressed or implied by such statements. Such factors include, but are not limited to: general economic, market, and business conditions; fluctuations in securities prices, interest rates, and foreign currency exchange rates; changes in government regulations; and catastrophic events.

The above list of important factors that may affect future results is not exhaustive. Before making any investment decisions, we encourage you to consider these and other factors carefully. CIBC Asset Management Inc. does not undertake, and specifically disclaims, any obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future developments, or otherwise prior to the release of the next management report of fund performance.
